A1: Social Media

Yvonne Carlson - yvonnecarlson1@gmail.com

ISO: Electronic balance in personal, spiritual and parenting life!

Navigating social media, communication, gaming and binge watching without losing my mind as an adult and parent. Electronics are here to stay. Let's discuss the battles to be ready for; ones to navigate carefully and ones to come armored and ready for war. Digital citizenship in light of eternity is key to navigating the ever present joy, frustration and danger of the screen in our hands.

Sara Halvorsen - Sarahalvorsen525@gmail.com

I am a wife, a mom, an early childhood professional, a parent educator, and a writer. I like coffee, good books, fashion trends, sports, and sweet giggles from my kiddos.

Most importantly of all - I'm a child of God. But what does social media have to do with all of those things? SO MUCH! While social media gets such a bad rep, I personally believe it can be used in multiple positive ways and I think it can be a huge tool for spreading the truth of Christ. Like it or not, it's here to stay. Our challenge is to live in a world where social media exists, but we still keep our hearts and minds focused on something higher and greater. I think if we reframe our mindset from all the bad that social media brings, we can instead see it as an avenue to reach out as the arms of Christ.

Kaylee Freese - kayleefreese@gmail.com

Technology and social media have allowed me to stay in community with friends near & far. It has allowed me to join in praising God and join in trials with others. It has made me feel connected, loved, and encouraged. However, it has also made me feel lonely and less than. It has distracted me from quality time with loved ones, and more importantly my Savior. While technology and social media can be tools used by God, they can also be avenues for lies to enter in. It's important for us to be wise in how we navigate this. "Search me, O God, and know my heart! Try me and know my thoughts! And see if there be any grievous way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting!" Psalm 139: 23-24 "We destroy arguments and every lofty opinion raised against the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ." 2 Corinthians 10:5

A2: My Top 3

Jenny Beck - jennybeck1967@gmail.com

God is teaching me to be available and willing to be used by him wherever that may be. I am at a point in my life where I am a bit reflective, as I step back I can see the things that seemed so important were not nearly as important. Most everything in life is a stage - always changing - but one thing remains steady, God's love and commitment to us. So as I journey on I strive to live a life of balance and consistency, looking for opportunities to show God's love to others. Ephesians 5:15-17

Lisa Reichardt - lreichardt@4rhuskies.org

I am at the stage in life where some things are starting to come into focus. I'm pretty sure this is called perspective! I can now see why winning important battles with a toddler is important...but so is choosing your battles wisely. I can see that when a teenager wants to talk (or spend time with you in any way!) you stop everything for them! I can see why investing time in your marriage and dating your spouse are so important! Still lots to learn, but perspective is a wonderful thing!

Alesa Johnson - alesa@hamilton.net

I no doubt am known as the quiet half of my 23 year marriage. I usually prefer listening to talking but I am very happy for the opportunity to be surrounded by so many women seekers in the loving environment that this event creates. My husband, Chad, and I wanted two kids (one for each of us) and God showed us his AWESOME love by giving us a boy and girl! We are already starting to feel the earth shake a bit under our feet as we realize our empty nest phase is coming quickly. If you have wisdom to share, please find me!

Stacie Faber - faber@hamilton.net

Hebrews 10:24-25 "And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds, not giving up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging one another—and all the more as you see the Day approaching." I am a daughter/wife/mother always looking to "do better." Growing up the youngest of 6, we lead a simple life with The Golden Rule guiding us. This last year has especially hit home how precious life is and the need to stop being busy and spend quality time making memories with loved ones! Looking forward to encouraging each other in this panel as we share what has shaped us.

B1: Loving Your Prince

Cynthia Willey - cynthiawilley69@yahoo.com

Proverbs 12:4 - A worthy wife is a crown for her husband, but a disgraceful woman is like cancer to his bones. Early on in my marriage, I was anything but a "crown". I was a woman who lifted up her children, but stepped on my husband's leadership and position. With God's grace, the process of healing & forgiveness and wonderful examples of strong godly women, I overcame my insecurities and learned how to honor and respect my husband. It is my hope and deep desire that God will use my testimony to help other women craft and polish their "crown" for their husband to proudly wear.

Shawna Vinkenberg - vinkenberg@hamilton.net

One of the greatest things we wives can do for our marriage is recognizing who we are as God's beloved daughters. Connect with your Heavenly Father throughout each day by being in the Word & in prayer. Let Him speak truth into your heart & remind you that you are "His chosen daughter, holy and dearly loved." (Colossians 3:12) Let God lavish you with His love. Confidently reach out & receive His affirmation! His perfect love & affirmation cannot be added to or subtracted from no matter what kind of day you are having! (And aren't we so GLAD about that!) When we allow our Abba Father to fill us emotionally & spiritually as only He can do, then & only then are we able to fully partner with God & pour out grace, mercy & love to our husbands and into our marriages.

Amanda Medinger - amandamedinger@gmail.com

I was told by a very wise person that there are really only 2 things in life you can control... your OWN actions & your OWN attitude. When I finally realized that, it allowed me to work on becoming the best version of me that I could be & allow God to help my husband become the best version of himself. My husband & I celebrated 15 years of marriage this past December and I believe it is stronger now than it ever has been. We try to always communicate with love and respect. James 1:19 says "My dear brothers and sisters, take note of this: Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak and slow to become angry."

Jen Jennings - heathandjenjennings@yahoo.com

The day we said, "I do" (13 yrs ago) we had no idea what life would bring us, but we knew God had brought us together & His love for us surpasses our love for each other. He has given us our great adventure to walk together, & not always smooth or easy, but we are a team. God has met us each step of the way drawing us closer to each other as we have drawn closer to Him. The Lord blessed us with 4 girls, all living, 1 little boy in Heaven & 2 other angel babies. My goal is to be my husband's biggest cheerleader & show our girls how to do the same. I am by no means perfect in any of life. I am thankful for a Heavenly Father who is in the business of renovating my life for the better. It's all for Jesus as we walk this life path. I must decrease so Christ might increase. Philippians 1:3-6. My prayer is that I am a wife that is a crown to her husband. Proverbs 12:4 Because Christ has all of my heart to work His will in my life for His glory even when it's painful. Jesus is my first love. He took the wrath of God on Himself so I wouldn't have to and to save a wretch like me for Himself. That is the ultimate perfect Prince.

B2: Taking Care of Mom

Kristin Frew - husbands.kristin@gmail.com

Money problems are never fun - but managing your money can be a blast!! Jason and I have experienced a lot of different seasons with our money: debt, working extra to pay off debt, pay cuts, going from 2 incomes to one, living on a tight budget and learning to be generous and open-handed through it all. After all, we are simply the stewards of God's wealth. We take none of it with us. I am excited to share my experiences and encourage you wherever you are in your journey!

Amy Owens - owensamy10@gmail.com

As a mom I have found how very important it is to take care of myself so that I can be the best mom for my kids. Exercise helps to relieve anxiety and stress and produces more energy to help sustain a fast-paced life. Also taking care of myself from the outside in by eating well and making sure I'm taking the supplements that my body needs to function at it's optimal best. As we age functional exercise is imperative so we continue to live the best life. There is a time to be born and a time to die, but we do have a choice how we feel in those years. Balancing a large blended family of 10 children I want to be my best for them.

Jen Ramaekers - jramaeke@live.com

3 John 1:2 - Beloved, I pray that all may go well with you and that you may be in good health, as it goes well with your soul. Prioritizing yourself when being a mom is a very challenging thing to do. We are constantly being pulled in 30 different directions. Everyone has days where they are extremely tired or feel extra irritable, but if this becomes your new normal there could be an underlying imbalance. I hope to help answer your questions about what is normal, if and how things can be fixed, and how to get you back in balance. I look forward to sharing my knowledge with you and encouraging you to be the best version of yourself!

C1: Practical Parenting

Marci Epp - rickepp@hamilton.net

1st Corinthians 13:4-7 says, "Love is patient & kind. Love is not jealous or boastful or proud or rude. It does not demand it's own way. It is not irritable, & it keeps no record of being wronged. It does not rejoice about injustice but rejoices whenever the truth wins out. Love never gives up, never loses faith, is always hopeful, & endures through every circumstance." We must strive to live these verses out as mommas of daughters as well as train our daughters to live these out daily! I love God's word because it is so practical for parenting!

Dena Grantham - indy4ne@yahoo.com

My story is that I just "knew" God would give me all boys...and He gave me a girl. Then He gave me another girl...and another. I am so very thankful that He doesn't listen to me and what I think I know. If I've learned ONE thing, it's that I don't know anything! Ha! He is all that we need in every moment and in every situation. He weaves His goodness through the fabric of our flaws and our failings. My prayer is that from my MESS, His MESSAGE would be seen and heard!

Megan Carlson - farmgirl68854@gmail.com

Being the imperfect parent of 5 imperfect little people has been one of the greatest joys of my life. It has challenged me, changed me, and strengthened my walk with the Lord. I've learned to cherish every age and every stage because our time with them at home is fleeting. This holy calling is not a competition, but an act of loving obedience. Like Peter stepping out of the boat, we must keep our eyes on the Savior lest we sink out of fear and doubt.

Lisa Hunnicutt - Hunnicuttcrew@gmail.com

I am a homeschooling mom of 7 kids, ranging from 5 years old through a freshman in college. God blessed me with the big family that I always dreamed of. I have learned so much from being a mom. It is a job that I love and would not trade for anything else in this world. It is also a job that on many days is the toughest thing I have ever done and I cannot do it on my own strength. I need to rely and look to God to give me the wisdom and strength I need to make it through each day. "The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusts in Him." Psalm 28:7

C2: Things That Hurt

Annette Miller - annettell2575@gmail.com

"He who finds a wife, finds what is good and receives favor from the Lord" Proverbs 18:22
Wow! I felt that if this is true, then I must have been a bad wife. Why else did he hurt me?

Why did he not love me? What I didn't know is that God was shaping me into a strong woman, into a survivor, into the woman I have become. "She is strong" Proverbs 31:25.

Mental, verbal, physical abuse..... something I would never wish on my worst enemy. But the person I am today? Thanks to God, I learned to put Him first, before my marriage, before my family. I had to break my family, I had to break-up my marriage. I had to break things to fix things! I am a fixer. I am a helper. I am a goer..... now. When at one point I wanted to die. It seemed to be the only way out. But one bible verse that helped me through the worst 7 years of my life..... "Be strong, be brave, be fearless" Joshua 1:9. This verse not only got me out of my situation, but it also got me through the next 12 years as I was then a single mom. "Always give thanks to God the father for everything" Ephesians 5:20.

Rose Stromer - rosestromer@gmail.com

I was hurt, I was mad and I was lost. I thought Good had forgotten about me and no longer cared for me. But in the end it was I who lost my way and needed to get back to Him. "For your God is gracious and compassionate. He will not turn his face from you if you return to him." 2 Chronicles 30:9 In coming back to Him I also realized I needed to learn forgiveness. My pain was/is great, but through forgiveness in Christ I find relief.

Ephesians 4:31-32 "Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice. Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you." I realized if we can be forgiven by Him after all we did I can forgive. However, I remind myself I will not forget.

Rachel Tiede - thetiedes@gmail.com

I have been blessed in my life, far beyond what I deserve. I grew up in a strong, loving, Christian family. We attended a strong, faithful church that preached the Bible as the perfect Word of God. AND I have never known a day when I did not just believe but KNOW that I am loved by the One True God! I'd like to tell you this has somehow made me immune to the dark and ugly things in life. But from infertility to chronic depression to sexual abuse, it has been hard. The Darkness is real, and it seeks to destroy, to convince us that there is no hope, no light to be seen. I am here to proclaim to you that this is a LIE. There is hope. There is Light. That Light shines in the darkness, and the Darkness CANNOT overcome it. (John 1:5)

What God has been teaching me through literature is that the bible is my first and foremost book to learn from and share with others. I also believe that God has used children's literature to encourage me to share His Life Lessons with my Kindergarten Family. Every lesson I share with my little friends reminds me of His grace and goodness.

The "Little Mermaid" Gospel

By Tamarée Goertzen

Do you ever long for more? More time, more money, more talent, more love? And do you ever feel like everyone else already has all of those things? Like somehow you missed the memo on how to get the perfect life, and if you could only live in their world instead of yours, everything would be better. Let me tell you, sweet soul, the CRUSTACEAN SEBASTIAN said it best, "The seaweed is always greener in somebody else's lake." But what about YOUR LAKE? What about your sea of doubt and fear and regret and guilt? What about that longing, that deep down soul ache, that never seems to be filled? We long for a world that is different - free from pain and sorrow. We are longing for a better world - a heavenly one. Yet, it seems we are always drowning in a sea of sin. We are flipping our fins and getting nowhere. We are yearning for a place in the sun where we can wander free, but how do we get there? What can these fins do but barely keep us afloat? The truth is, our fins can never get us out of the sea. We need a Savior. We need a Prince who will pick us up out of these deep waters and carry us into His Kingdom. And the beautiful news is this - GOD MADE A WAY for that very thing. He made a way for us, the broken and drowning, to become part of His world. A world of freedom and grace - an eternity so perfect and beautiful that our souls will never yearn again. He sent the Prince down to the depths of the sea to RESCUE us all. To cover us in the blood of the lamb, and to make us a new creation - A DAUGHTER OR SON OF THE KING! And as He picks us up and places us on the shore, we can see it so clearly. The depths of His love came down to our depths, and now we can be Part of His world.

Welcome to our Secret Sister Program.

All ladies are invited to participate in this ministry of loving and encouraging one another.

Some General Guidelines & Suggestions

- * Know that it is a commitment. The lady you are assigned will be expecting you to uphold her in your prayers and encouragement throughout this season.
- * Therefore, try to consistently lift up your sister in prayer by emphasizing notes of encouragement over gifts. While it is important and fun to surprise her with a few, well thought-out gifts, don't overwhelm her. Instead send regular notes, encouraging her and letting her know that you are praying for her. If she spoke or sang at church compliment her performance. If you heard her child excelled at an event, congratulate her and her child in a note.
- * Please do not post all your secret sister encouragement to social media. While any form of encouragement is awesome, there will be an appropriate time to tell your sister thank you. As many of us know and experience, it is so easy to compare ourselves with others due to social media. We do not want this ministry to be hindered by others comparing or feeling they have to step-up their game. This is a season where we want each of you to be blessed without unintentionally seeking the "likes" of others.
- * Use this opportunity to model encouragement for your children. When you send an encouraging note to your sister, encourage your child to do so as well to a friend anonymously.
- * If you are unable to continue, please contact Lori Mullarkey so we can make sure to continue lifting your sister up in prayer and encouragement.
- * Reveal yourself to your Secret Sister at some point in December. Holidays can often be crazy and stressful and the gift of your love and encouragement the past several months is no doubt appreciated and treasured . . . and one you will want to THANK your sister for!

Remember! YOU are signing up for this opportunity to pray, love, and encourage another, NOT for what may or may not be reciprocated.

"A word spoken in due season, how good it is!"
